Captain Samantha carver sighed her first mission as commander of the sword of light and it was a near suicide mission. She had just turned 32 and was promoted to the rank of captain six days ago she had a feeling that it was because her father pulled some strings. Her father is 57 year old vice admiral Jonathan delios carver and he is the unscs most respected officer having been in the unsc for forty years. she stood up from her chair in her quarters and made her way to the sword of lights bridge as she walked she fought off the capability of her ship compared to the others in the fleet. the sword of light is a retrofitted hycalon class cruiser and while she loved her ship Samantha doubted very much that it could match the firepower of a few covenant cruisers even with the advancements but she was optimistic her ship might be the runt of the fleet but it made up with it because it was more maneuverable than the larger ships. she strolled onto the bridge and saw that the executive officer was not on duty she walked up to the command chair and watched as the officer of the watch lt Michael peaks saluted her and said "captain has the bridge" and stepped down Samantha smiled at him and returned the salute she sat down and watched the screen and said "lt status report" "mam the sword is at full mission readiness the new shields are charged and offline and the weapons systems are warmed prepared to be brought online we are currently 10 minutes away from rendezvous with the fleet mam" "thank you lt patch me through to the earths guardian" "'yes mam'" the lt barked hailing the fleets flagship "'your on captain" informed the lt with a nod to him she picked up a headset.' this is captain carver of the unsc warship sword of light to the warship earths guardian please come in'" she asked the response came less than 10 seconds later." ' this is commander black first officer of the earths guardian go ahead captain''''were on approach to the fleet commander eta is 7 minutes is all the other ships their.' ' 'yes captain you're the last as soon as you take position we will leave have your first officer follow us and match our speed the admiral wants all captains in his ready room in 10 minutes.

2. Chapter 2

**UNSC EARTHS GUARDIAN **

Commander James Black cut off the transmission to the sword of light letting out a deep breath and leaned back in the command chair of the earth's guardian running a pale withered hand through his thinning hair. He looked out the view port as he pondered the sanity of UNSC command. The ageing commander was born on earth and joined the fight against the covenant when he was 19 and being just north of 40 he was quite happy with his life of running drills with new UNSC technology and he actually enjoyed his time as a desk officer but with the fall of Reach he was assigned as the executive officer of the UNSC Earth's Guardian.

This fleet was designed specifically for repelling the covenant threat and had the technology and weapons to back up that claim. Even so the commander was utterly appalled when he was told he was assigned to a fleet assaulting the covenant! In his early enlisted days onboard a UNSC frigate he had seen the destructive capability of covenant ships and was rightly worried to put it lightly although he himself had overseen the build and retrofit of the UNSC ships and was astounded with the result.

The new ships were humongous it took almost all of the office of naval intelligence funds and connections to make it happen. Experts and labourers from every colony were called into assist. Rumour is the chief of naval intelligence herself had ordered the massive effort. Just the size of the ships were enough to deter most engineers the ships easily outsized even the Marathon class cruiser even the old Hycalon class ships size was extended. Even new external weapon systems were built to combat the covenant.

Even with these advancements the commander was not longing for the upcoming battle. Black took in a shaky breathe as he surveyed the bridge crew 3 officers were on duty. Turning to glance at him with a weary glance was the young ensign Jackson Shawl the 23 year old was still green to the bone but still a useable weapons officer. To his left was Lt

Augustus Sivel the 32 year old was a good friend and a great communications officer even though he could be a tad wistful sometimes. The last member of the sombre bunch was Lt Sierra Maxwell the 21 year old had come highly recommended and the admiral had been eager to get a good navigation officer.

Speaking of the admiral, the seasoned officer strolled into the bridge spotting Black in the command chair he marched over. Black jumped up and flashed a smart salute the admiral sat down in the chair and declared "at ease report".

"sir" black said "the last ship just joined the fleet we are ready to deploy" excellent" stated the admiral "Lt sivel inform unsc command that we are proceeding with the mission" yes sir" the lt replied proceeding to do so.

"Sir" sivel said after a few moments "all the captains have come aboard and are waiting for you in your ready room"

"Good" stated the admiral "signal all the ships first officers to put their crews in cryo and get under way in standard formation around us, prepare the fleet for slip space jump. lt maxwell takes us into slip space for predetermined coordinates at maximum speed on a randomised vector in accordance with Cole protocol"

"Aye" sir she replies after the ship enters slip space the admiral orders the remaining crew to enter cryo

And proceeds to his ready room to brief the captains on their objectives.

Some time later the massive form of the 12 unsc warships exited slip space a few minutes slip space jump away from reach

Commander Stone akaSPARTAN-116 or as he used to be called beta 4 stared out the window on the port side of the earths guardian watching the endless sea of black as he thought about the last time he had been to reach. _He had been battling for his life. _

_He was the last of beta team and with the oni base evacuated he had nothing to lose but his life. He was thought to have died in the augmentations by the rest of the Spartans and Halsey but was snatched by the unsc marine high command to train marines in pain endurance. When reach was invaded he was tasked to lead beta team a team of marines he trained. To evacuate one of the oni research stations. Now he was fighting for his life on what was left of reach. right when his ammo ran out and he was preparing to fight unarmed against several elites and dozens of grunts. Machine gun fire tore through the air and ripped through the elites shields like a hot knife to butter soon the immediate area was cleared of the covenant but he could hear more just over the ridge._

_He looked up and saw his savoir a lone falcon putting down 20 meters away the door gunner beckoning him closer he sprinted to the falcon and jumped aboard and the falcon took to the air . four took a deep breath and secured himself in one of the seats and that's when he took in the flacons occupants there was a pilot and two marines manning the guns but there not the ones that had the lts attention there was an older man maybe around 50 he had the badges of rear admiral of naval intelligence._

_The man leaned over and inspected four." are you alright lt" he asked with a slight accent "yes sir" replied four "but what happened

I thought everyone had been evacuated or killed" I would've been killed if it wasn't for these guys slapping a marine on the back". he held out a tanned hand for the lt to take four shook his hand gently and the admiral spoke." I am rear admiral Joseph dwell I was in command of ground defence of reach hah that turned out well didn't it?" I lost hundreds of men and women marine and odst'."were are we going sir" the lt asked." good question Spartan we are enroute to an oni stealth corvette the unsc Circe in low orbit'. "We sent a few mines out near a few cruisers were using them to distract the covenant while we extract you wouldn't want some nosy covenant droship chasing us now would we".__

"_no sir" four agreed" but if you don't mind me asking how did you find me"."ah yes I was wondering when you would ask we have an oni officer onboard the pillar of autum he was one of the one you evacuated he let us know you had stayed behind to give them a chance. so I organised a rescue misson"."seems a big effort just to keep me alive sir" said four." you under estimate your usefulness Spartan".__

"_Usefulness sir?" not now four were entering the Circe" four hadn't even seen the ship at all until suddenly they were landing inside the corvette. The falcon touched down and everyone jumped out.__

"_With me lt"said the admiral "sir"acknowlged four. four followed the admiral up several decks to an large office presumable his because his name was on the door."Please, come in lt"the admiral stated holding open the door_

_four walked in and immediately noticed the room was already occupied it was dark so couldn't make out any features. Dwell walked in and spotted the rooms other occupant as well and smiled walking toward her with arms outstretched."Ah captain you're already here I was about to call for you" the admiral turned on the light.__

four was interrupted from his musings by a nervous crewman poking his head in the door "ah sorry if I disturbed you commander but the admiral wants you on the bridge ASAP" thanks crewman" he said getting up ah he sighed "it's going to be good to see some real action".
